1. - 29. (cancelled)

30. (previously presented) An apparatus for inhibiting foot eversion, the apparatus comprising a cuff positionable around a leg immediately above an ankle joint so that the ankle joint prevents the cuff from moving downwardly, a strap with a first end and a second end, the first end connected to the cuff and the second end connectible to footwear at a location on a portion of the footwear at an outer side thereof wherein the cuff is positionable above protruding parts of the ankle thereby preventing the cuff from moving down on the leg below the ankle and wherein the cuff is supported by the protruding parts of the ankle to facilitate inhibition of eversion of the foot.

31. (previously presented) The apparatus of claim 30 further comprising adjustability means for adjusting length of the strap between the cuff and the footwear.

32. (previously presented) The apparatus of claim 31 wherein the adjustability means is from the group consisting of openable-closable clasp and buckle apparatus.

33. (previously presented) The apparatus of claim 31 wherein the cuff includes cushion material for the comfort of a user of the apparatus.
